Red Attack Seen.

Disclosure of the terms gave risc to immediate speculation that Russia would almost certainly attack the proposals and might possibly veto them in the security council. In the latter event, however, the islands would continue in their present status as occupied enemy territory.

The draft agreement not only reserves to the United States unrestricted rights to establish military, naval and air bases within the trust territory, but provides that any or all of the area may be declared closed for security reasons.

and the like will be of utmost importance in foreign policy development.

3. A question of American relations with Russia arises from the fact that during the pre-electiton campaign Moscow assailed Vandenberg and his influence, while in this country the Republicans made an issue over domestic communism. How Moscow will adjust itself to the new situation remains to be seen. One western diplomat with much experience in Moscow said he believed the Russians had long-since reconciled themselves to Vandenberg's influence.

The Big-Four sessions were in recess today because Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov wanted to participate in an embassy celebration in Washington of the anniversary of the communist revolution in Russia.

IN MEMORY.

In loving remembrance of our darling husband and precious daddy, Curtis M. Conner.
Our home was made very sad Tuesday night, Oct. 29, 1946, when we were told of our precious husband and daddy's death. Oh, it was such a shock to us to hear he had been taken from us so suddenly, for only a few hours earlier he had left us so happy ne nad been taken from us 50 suddenly, for only a few hours earlier he had left us, so happy and gay. We can all but keep from asking why he was taken so suddenly, but some day we will understand, for God makes no mistakes.

his happy spirit live on to guide his children, who loved him dearly. He found great delight in making his friends and loved one's happy and he was always ready to lend a helping hand to loved ones and friends in time of need. The night was never too cold or dark for him to go if he was needed.

It was a consolation to know you were prepared to go, and you have left this world for a better place, which makes heaven dearer and sweeter to us now than ever before. May we all live the kind of life that will enable us to meet you where there will be no more heartaches and sad goodbyes. You were the kind of dad any boy or girl could be proud of.

He was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery Oct. 31, 1946. He left his wife, five children, Gelino, Calvert, Leslie, Johnnie and Wanda Sue; four sisters, one brother, grandmother and a host of other relatives and friends.

You left a loving wife, dear

CARD OF THANKS.
Words cannot express our appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and many acts of kindness shown us during our recent sorrow. We offer our thanks to Rev. Kirkland and Rev. Jack Goff for their words of comfort and for their words of comfort and we do especially thank Mrs. Roberts and the ladies from the different churches for the good food brought in and served by them. Also we wish to thank Dr. T. O. Wills and our many friends for the beautiful floral offerings. May God bless you is our prayer.—Mrs. Curtis Conner, Calvert, Leslie, Johnnie and Wanda Sue Conner, and Mr and Mrs. Nathan Benfield. Mrs. Nathan Benfield.

Mrs. R. M. Whitten will be hostess to members of Circle I, Woman's Council, First Christian church, on Monday aftertian church, on Monoon at 3:30 o'clock.

—a Democratic president and a Republican congress—many people think our form of government awkward.

They consider it far less sensitive to the wishes of the voters than Britain's parliamentary system.

There, when there's doubt whether the political party in power is congress—when the people want, the people vote immediately.

They can keep that party in spower—thus expressing confidence in it—or vote themselves a whole new government, new from top bottom.

Tuesday's voters showed they were fed up with the Democratis who had run the government since in it—or vote themselves a whole in the top Democrat, in the White House.

They turned congress over to the Republicans. It was a big change.

But it wasn't complete, even if the voters had wanted it to be. No political change in the government is complete unless both congress and the presidency are cleasions on:

chairman in Navarro county for a quarter of a century, is elated over the Republicans gaining control in Washington of both the House and Senate in Tuesday's general election.

"We are back in power and hope that we will be able to restore the government of the people and remove the present bureaucratic and new deal complexion in our government." Blumrosen said.

Democrats have been in charge of the law-making body since the Hoover Administration.

Blumrosen, a staunch and loyal Republican during the years when his party is in power or when it represents a decided minority, has long been prominent in the GOD ranks. He refused, however, to run against Col. Olin E. Teague, present congressmen from the Sixth district, as the Republican nominee and withdrew in Teague's favor, with the statement that he would not oppose Col. Teague, a wounded ex-GI, in the race for congress. He was active for Eugene Noite, the Republican gubernatorial aspirant, in the local political circles, and blamed the rains for his candidate receiving such a small vote Tuesday in Navarro county.

With his arrival began the conflict, acute today, between the ideals of Jesus and of world-conquering Alexander the Great, of Phillippi; between peace and demoand brotherhood as over against war and imperialism. A true and dramatic significance of this Lesson lies in the contrast between Alexander and Paul. Two echoes come to us from old and now ruined Phillippi; the clat-ter and noise of young Alexander and his generals as they mount their richly caparisoned horses that and his generals as they mount their richly caparisoned horses that their richly caparisoned horses that would carry them victoriously to far India, and the gentle praying of a little band of women, and the preaching of a stranger mission are supported by dead men and preaching of a stranger mission are supported by dead men and say or religion; it has been bright-that students at Navarro Junior Colleges. All of the Commenturies upon the present Lesson have much to say about the westward march of Christianity, led by Paul, and they all play upon the theme of the Gospel's entry into Europe. Actually, there was at the time no distinction between Aste, and Europe.

Actually, there was at the time no distinction between Asia and Europe: both were parts of one Roman Empire.

A Man in a Dream
While in Troas, the port of Troy (how Paul, the scholar, must have reveled in the scenes immortalized by Homer!) the apostle had a vision of a man in Macedonia, crying "Come over and help us." It was only a dream; there was no real man of Macedonia pleading for the presence of this mission-

Number Of Flu Cases In Texas Shows Increase

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.-(Spl.)-Reets coming in from various sections of the state indicate that the number of influenza cases appears to be increasing with the advance of the fall season, and during the past week 930 choses were reported in Texan.

Commenting on this situation today, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, said that most of these cases are mild and lend themselves to treatment readily. He pointed out that two co-operative factors are essential to victims of this disease; first, to call the family physician prompty when suspicious symptoms appear, and, second, to take in easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided. tions of the state indicate that the attack, calls for a period of convalescence, because serious complications can occur if this important fact is ignored." Dr. Cox said "Influenza is not mass-centrollable. However, those persons who maintain the highest possible health levels at all times, increasing their resistance to communicable disease germs, will have a protective advantage over those more careless persons, who continually abuse their health."

The state health officer declared that living by the laws of nature, getting plenty of sleep, daily exercise in the open, nourishing foods and good personal hygiene offers the best known bulwark against all respiratory diseases and added that avoiding habits of any and all kinds detrimantal to maximum well being is a wise course to take in the pursuit of good health.

"STARVING" WORLD;
ENDANGERING PEACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(P)—Eugene Meyer, president of the World Bank, declared today that strikes in this country are threatening the world with economic starvation and thereby endangering the peace.

Meyer called prasent American iabor relations "disastrous." He headed the federal reserve board and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under Republican administrations and resigned as publisher of the Washington Post last June to accept the bank's presidence of "a fresh stoppage of work threatened in the coal mines," Meyer asserted in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Academy of Political Science:

"I say emphatically that the cruical importance of continuous full production for our own welfare and for that of mankind the world over cannot be exaggerated.

"We Americans who but recently showed our sympathy for the people of the world by sharing the products of our fields must now become aware that this economic starvation threatens the winning of the peace x x x ."

Official canvass of the returns will probably be made at the regular meeting of the Navarro county commissioners court Monday.

Another amendment election will be held in Navarro county Thursday when the electorate will determine whether or not Article III of the Constitution will be amended by adding Section 49-B creating a veteran's land fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans of World War II. A clerical error in Austin caused the election for Thursday instead of it being submitted at Tuesday's election along with the other proposed changes.
